GRE General Test

The General Test is the core component of the GRE, consisting of three sections:

1. Verbal Reasoning: Tests your vocabulary, reading comprehension, and critical thinking skills, with question types including sentence equivalence, text completion, and reading comprehension.
2. Quantitative Reasoning: Assesses your math skills, including algebra, geometry, and data analysis, through question types such as quantitative comparison, multiple choice, and numeric entry.
3. Analytical Writing: Requires you to write two essays, one that analyzes an argument and one that presents your own perspective on a given topic, demonstrating your writing and analytical abilities.

GRE Subject Tests

In addition to the General Test, you may also need to take one or more Subject Tests if required by your desired graduate program. These tests cover specialized knowledge in specific subject areas, including:

- Biology
- Chemistry
- Computer Science
- Literature in English
- Mathematics
- Physics
- Psychology
